

Helping my child succeed in school and life

Help your child succeed by being by their side and celebrate the little wins.

When your child is struggling at school or refusing to go to school, knowing that you are on their side is what matters most. Every child has something to offer and deserves some success at school. Success looks different for every child and it's not just about grades and test scores. Set realistic goals with your child and celebrate their little wins. All those little wins can make a big difference.

Find out how you can make a difference if your child is struggling at school and read more about how you can help your child find success.

[Music]

Narrator: First up, we need to take a look at what success actually looks like. This will be different for everyone but one thing's for sure it's not all about grades and test scores. Success can mean so much more.

Discover more on the Spark Their Future website

Last Updated: 08 December 2022

<https://www.sparktheirfuture.qld.edu.au/helping-my-child-succeed>